

Leave the ban on cell phone use while aboard aircraft intact. At the most allow only data communications, which could easily be done through onboard transmitters.